3. Open Science in Communication Studies: Benefits, Challenges, and Applications: Workshop, November 26, 13.00-17.00, sign-up: http://bit.ly/ikmz_osw. Speakers are Eva Furrer, CRS, Tobias Dienlin, University of Vienna, lead-author of "An Agenda for Open Science in Communication" in Journal of Communication and Susanne Tönsmann, Participatory Science Academy of the University of Zurich.

4. FORS and SWITCH invite you to connect on ideas, projects and tools in a three-day hackathon on Open Research Data. You're in the right place to innovate, expand your network and use your skills creatively. We're looking for people interested in improving research in the context of open science. Students, academics, developers and service providers from Switzerland and beyond are invited to share their ideas and pave the way for innovative projects and applications. More information: www.ord-hackathon.ch, deadline for idea submission is November 30.

5. New registered report from within CRS: "Is reporting quality in medical publications associated with biostatisticians as co-authors? A registered report protocol" by Ulrike Held, Stefanie von Felten, Eva Furrer and others.
