

CRS Newsletter February 21st, 2023

Dear Members and Fellows of the CRS, dear subscribers of the CRS mailing list

With this newsletter we provide information and activities related to reproducibility, replicability and related topics. You will also find information about activities conducted by the CRS.

Content

1. ReproducibiliTea: First talk of the semester by Josef Brüderl and Katrin Auspurg, LMU Munich
2. UZH Reproducibility Day on February 9, 2023 with Keynote by Matthias Egger was a big success: link to materials
3. CRS Primers: new CRS publication format on topics in Reproducibility, Research Methodology and Good Research Practice
4. Conference Alert: Metascience 2023 on May 9-10, 2023 including free virtual pre-conference events in April and May
5. Conference Alert: Open Science Conference, abstract submission deadline is March 3rd, the conference is on 27 – 29 June 2023 (online).

1. The first ReproducibiliTea of the semester will take place on March 2nd at 16:30 in Room KOL-H-321. Josef Brüderl and Katrin Auspurg from LMU Munich will present Has the Credibility of the Social Sciences Been Credibly Destroyed? Reanalyzing the “Many Analysts, One Data Set” Project.

The program for the entire semester is attached, please save the dates in your agenda and spread the word!

2. Big success: UZH Reproducibility Day on February 9, 2023 was a day full of interesting talks, discussions and workshops. Thanks to those who came and discussed with us! The slides of Matthias Egger's keynote are available here. All workshop materials are also openly available on OSF: <https://osf.io/3fyw4/>.
3. CRS Primers: This new format features concise introductions to topics in Reproducibility, Research Methodology and Good Research Practice. They are intended to be easy to understand for a broad audience and include numerous links to further resources and reading. See here for a full listing of available primers and the new CRS community on Zenodo for direct access to the documents.
4. Conference Alert: Metascience 2023 on May 9-10, 2023. In-person conference at the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, DC. Including free virtual pre-conference events in April and May. Stay tuned for more details on <https://metascience.info/>.
5. Conference Alert: The international Open Science Conference provides a unique forum to discuss the latest and future developments in Open Science. Abstract submission deadline is March 3rd, the conference is on 27 – 29 June 2023 (online). More details on <https://www.open-science-conference.eu/>